BISHOPSWOOD GOLF COURSE

Toasts welcome to new Head Chef with exclusive taster evening

Bishopswood Golf Course in Tadley is thriving at this time of year. The new season for golf membership is underway so regular golfers, returning golfers as well as those trying golf for the first time are signing up to enjoy the 9 hole course and 12 bay flood lit driving range.

On the upper floor of the club house, the Sands Lounge is also causing quite a stir and has established itself very firmly among the best places to eat out in Tadley and the surrounding area.

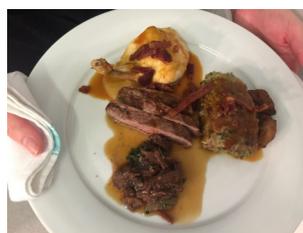

The Sands Lounge at Bishopswood Golf Course has always been a stunning place to enjoy a meal, particularly at this time of year, with its own terrace overlooking the golf course, but the arrival of new head Chef Neil Perkins has taken it to a whole new level.

Neil Perkins is an award-winning chef with over 30 years' experience and until recently was Executive Head Chef at Bramshill Police College, where he catered for Members of Government, overseas dignitaries and Members of the Royal Family.

Bishopswood guests were recently invited to an event where they were treated to sample a menu tasting evening to celebrate Neil's arrival. The guests sampled the delights of all the new menu dishes that he has designed and introduced. The sumptuous starters included a Terrine of confit chicken with celeriac remoulade.

Mouth-watering mains featured a Loin of lamb with a pine nut and parsley crust and tarragon gnocchi and the delicious desserts included Chocolate, rum and raisin marquise with coffee mocha sauce.

The guests were clearly delighted, highly praising the food and also the presentation and service.

Bishopswood is open for food and beverage services seven days a week to members and non-members.

Why not come along and sample the menu for yourself for lunch or dinner? To book a table, call 0118 940 8600 (option 4).
